

Sites of Special Scientific Interest

Burghclere has a rich assortment of sites of nature conservation interest as a result of its varied geology. Five locations have been designated by Natural England as Sites of Special Scientific Interest (SSSIs). These are:

- Burghclere Beacon
- Duncroft Farm Pit
- Highclere Park (largely in Highclere parish)
- Ladle Hill (largely in Ecchinswell and Sydmonton parish)
- Old Burghclere Limeworks

For further information about these sites click on the site name and it will open the link to the Natural England webpage.

To see the location of these sites follow this link <https://binged.it/2dFSCXe> (but give it a few seconds to load the information onto the map! 'My Places' in the brown box should change to 'Sites of Special Scientific Interest')

NB Most of these sites are privately owned and permission should be sought before visiting them.

Pages compiled by Simon Melville
October 2016